SQUAD WORKS OUT ON SOFT GRIDIRON

Finishing Touches Are Being Put on for Game With Carolina.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lexington, Va., November 15.—The Washington and Lee squad scrimmaged for about an hour this afternoon on a very soft gridiron. The ground was slippery and sticky and the men could not get up their usual speed, but every element of good football was most conspicuously present. The tackling was hard and sure, the plunges of the men carrying the ball were low and the backs picked their holes well. The charge of the line men on both sides of the line of scrimmage was good, all of the men using good judgment in their work, as well as playing through when the occasion demanded. The punting of Francis Woodhill and Mabelin was good, their spirals being high enough to let the ends down, carried well and were as a rule nicely placed by the punter. The ends on both the scrums and the varsity got down the punts in great improved form, skillfully skipping or punting blockers, who often threw themselves at the ends from a distance in an effort to get them to the ground. The ends kept aside, too, and when they failed to down the man receiving the punt in the line, they turned him in and the line, then, was down under the punts which were gotten away quickly this afternoon, were right there en masse to receive the runner and throw him to the ground before he had gone far. This is the last scrimmage before the Carolina game. The coaches say that the work to-morrow will be devoted to punting on the last touches for Saturday's game.

FLEET HONOR GOES TO CONNECTICUT

Newport, R. I., November 15.—In a decisive battle fought for an hour here today, the football eleven of the Connecticut, of the first squad, won the football championship of the Atlantic fleet by defeating the team of the battleship Idaho, second squad, by a score of 6 to 3. A silver trophy offered by R. L. Deekman, of this city, also went to the winners. After the game, the sailors and marines watched the conflict and cheered the sailors. The Connecticut's players made their touchdown in the third period, when Logan, who did the most brilliant work of the day, recovered a punt almost on the Idaho goal line and carried the ball over. He followed this up by kicking goal.

The Idaho men had the advantage in the second period, when Davids kicked a field goal from the forty-yard line.

Legislators and Public Placed in Touch With Works on Timely Subjects.

The Virginia State Library has just issued a pamphlet entitled "Legislative Reference Lists, 1911," which includes references to books and pamphlets in the State Library on the following subjects: Automobiles, boiler inspection, cold storage, convict labor, electric headlights, fire prevention and regulation of fire insurance, free text-books, juvenile courts, juvenile trains, juvenile courts, juvenile trains, legislative procedure, mines, motion pictures, registration of births and deaths, semi-monthly payment of wages, workmen's compensation and employers' liability.

The pamphlet has been prepared primarily for the purpose of assisting the members of the Legislature in securing current information upon subjects which are likely to come before the Legislature for discussion. The lists, however, will be found valuable for debating purposes in high schools and colleges; and, upon request, copies will be sent. Included in the lists are many references to bills presented to several State Legislatures in the session of 1911 and also to laws as adopted.

In selecting subjects for references the librarian has followed the wishes of members of the Legislature, of the Virginia Federation of Labor, of the different State departments and of the newspapers. The work of compilation has been done by the assistant librarian, Carl G. Swann.

In addition to the material in these lists, the State Library has accumulated in the past few years a valuable file of clippings from Virginia newspapers on all important legislative questions. These clippings are accessible not only to the members of the Legislature, but also to the public for use in the reading room. The subjects on which the library has practically all the important comments of the State newspapers for the two past years (and some for the two years preceding) are as follows: Children, juvenile courts, convict labor, State college for women, State debt (West Virginia controversy), playgrounds, consolidation of schools, mill tax, compulsory education, fee system, forestry, drainage, road roads, Virginia municipal government, oysters, fishing, ornamental silva, vote voting, prohibition, railroads, school ballot, State banks, State hospitals, taxation, Virginia constitutional amendments, woman suffrage, free text-books, automobiles and motion pictures.

Offerings Are Lighter.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., November 15.—The rain of last night, preventing many farmers from coming to the city with tobacco, kept the offerings at the warehouse floors to-day down to 275,000 pounds. With favorable weather last night the sales would no doubt have been considerably larger to-day. To-day's breaks bring the sales for the three days this week up to more than 800,000 pounds. The market continues active and with the offerings in good order the prices continue well up to quotations.

Lynchburg, Va., November 15.—The rain of last night, preventing many farmers from coming to the city with tobacco, kept the offerings at the warehouse floors to-day down to 275,000 pounds. With favorable weather last night the sales would no doubt have been considerably larger to-day. To-day's breaks bring the sales for the three days this week up to more than 800,000 pounds. The market continues active and with the offerings in good order the prices continue well up to quotations.
